to see the status of devices	The application should be able to alert the user if something suspcious occurs with the devices	Put data collection	he able to convey	Have visual signs of error, such as colour changes	The user should be able to add other users to view the status	Minimal technical language in high-level log explanations	System should record energy usage of each device in the home	be accessible	online forums where people can	physical hub with a	representation of default settings,	up alerts related to	The system should have permissions for privacy control	Accurate logs of actual errors, not just erroneous actions	support	information to other	record the cause of	More information and notifications about system updates	device's features easily. e.g. by	Have digital setup
The system must be able to be manually overriden (with appropriate permissions, like keys)	specified actions or	updates are		The system should provide further support when issues occur	The user should be able to access more granular, hierarchical information about what happened

Must

Should